

For immediate release October 19, 2011

Towner Management Making Headlines

Burlington, VT— A pair of Towner Management executives authored articles dealing with the issues facing and history of risk retention groups for the Risk Retention Reporter during the last two months.

In the October issue, Leonard D. Crouse, former Director of Captive Insurance in Vermont for almost two decades and a leading spokesperson for the captive insurance industry, authored the article, A Look Back at the Federal Liability Risk Retention Act for the publication's LRRRA 25th Anniversary issue. Crouse recently received the Karen Cutts Visionary Award from the National Risk Retention Association at its annual conference.

In September, Thomas P. Stokes wrote Finding the Right Home for Your Risk Retention Group or Purchasing Group for the Risk Retention Reporter. Stokes is Managing Principal of The Towner Management Group (NY) LLC and Consulting Practice Leader for TMG.

"Both Len and Tom have offered the same best-in-class expertise to our clients since The Towner Management Group began doing business in the United States," says Guy Ragosta, CEO and Partner of TMG's U.S. operations. "These articles just illustrate to the few people who don't know Tom and Len how vast their industry knowledge is."

These and other articles offering the expertise and viewpoints of TMG executives, both here and offshore, can be found at www.townermanagement.com. Click on the links Towner Insights or Press Room to find them under Towner in the News.

You can also find the two articles at www.rrr.com if you subscribe to the Risk Retention Reporter.

While you're online, check out the same links to read The Towner Management Group's special 12-page insert in Barbados' Sunday Sun celebrating the company's 20th anniversary.

To learn more about how the independent professionals at Towner Management can help you and your organization meet your unique risk financing needs, contact us through the information provided below.