

For immediate release December 12, 2011

Ragosta Featured as RRG CEO of the Month in December *Risk Retention Reporter

Burlington, VT—Guy Ragosta, Chief Executive Officer and Managing Partner of The Towner Management Group's U.S. operations, is the featured CEO of the Month in the December 2011 Risk Retention Reporter. Ragosta, a veteran of the captive insurance industry, heads the independent captive management and consulting firm, which has a strong niche in the risk retention group industry.

"I'm honored that the publication featured me," says Ragosta. "Risk Retention Reporter is the source when it comes to news and analysis about the challenges RRGs face."

In the article, Ragosta credits his colleagues and clients for his success, saying that his proudest professional achievement was ". . . that [partners] Len Crouse, Tom Stokes and I, along with our great team of professionals, in a little more than three years have created a management and consulting company that has attracted major industry clients and continues on a path of solid growth."

The article, "Lessons from 25 Years in Captive Management," can be found in its entirety by subscribers at www.rrr.com, while you can find a reprint on The Towner Management Group's web site by clicking on the Press Room or Towner Insights links.

For more information about how your risk retention group can benefit from the experience and expertise of TMG's professionals, please contact us. The Towner Management Group is an independent, full-service captive insurance and international business entity management company with a multi-domicile reach, dedicated to providing alternative risk solutions to meet diverse needs.